The objective of Vanguard Investment Series plc (the "Company") as set out in its constitutional document is the collective investment in transferable securities and/or other liquid financial assets of capital raised from the public and operated on the principle of risk-spreading in accordance with Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations 2011 (as amended) (the "UCITS Regulations").

Performance summary, tracking difference and tracking error

The performance of the Funds during the financial period under review is as set out below:

Further information on these performance measures and calculation methodologies used is detailed below:

Fund returns disclosed are the performance returns for the primary share class for each Fund with dividends reinvested, net of fees and expenses charged directly within the relevant share class, which has been selected as a representative share class. The returns disclosed for the benchmark are in the same currency as the primary share class, unless otherwise stated. The return of the primary share class disclosed may differ to the aggregate Fund performance for all share classes as reported in the financial statements primarily due to the impact of foreign currency translation and share class specific expenses. Performance returns for any other share class can be made available on request.

For Funds that commenced trading and/or fully redeemed during the financial period, returns are shown from the date the Fund commenced trading and/or to the date the Fund fully redeemed.

Tracking error measures the volatility of the return difference between each Fund and its relevant index. It is calculated as the standard deviation of the tracking difference between the Fund and the index (gross of fees for the trailing 36-month period, or since the Fund's inception if it does not have 36 months of performance history).

Realised tracking error may vary from the anticipated tracking error, depending on a range of circumstances. These include transaction costs, securities lending income and withholding tax differences. The anticipated tracking error and realised tracking error are not expected to vary significantly under normal circumstances. The Realised Tracking Error excludes adjustments for swing pricing. The tracking error disclosed for each Fund is based on an accumulation shares class that is in the same currency as the Fund's base currency.

² The fund attempts to select those securities that will create the representative sample that tracks the performance of the index as closely as possible.

⁴ Managed by Vanguard Global Advisers, LLC.

⁵ Managed by Vanguard Global Advisers, LLC, and sub-managed by PRIMECAP Management Company.

⁶ Managed by Vanguard Investments Australia, Limited.

^a The difference in tracking error is due to the Fund's accrual of capital gains tax for India and Brazil which are not included in the benchmark. In addition, the Fund divested its Russian holdings that had previously been valued at zero and were not part of the benchmark.

^{*} The Fund does not track an index.

All of the returns in this report represent past performance, which is not a guarantee of future results that may be achieved by the fund. For performance data current to the most recent month end, which may be higher or lower than that cited, visit our website at <https://global.vanguard.com>. Note, too, that both investment returns and principal value can fluctuate widely, so an investor's shares, when sold, could be worth more or less than their original cost.

Performance Summary

Q1 2026

- 2026 started with rising geopolitical tensions, shifting trade policy and growing unease about AI's impact on businesses. Global economic activity remained weak as uncertainty weighed on growth. Inflation continued to ease in the UK and the US, although the inflationary effects of the Middle East conflict had yet to appear in official data during the period. Consequently, central banks adopted a cautious tone, with the European Central Bank (ECB), the Bank of England (BoE) and the US Federal Reserve (Fed) all signalling a wait-and-see approach at their March meetings.
- Global equity markets were mixed over the quarter. UK equities delivered positive returns, supported by relatively high exposure to commodity linked sectors, particularly energy. By contrast, US equities posted negative returns, underperforming most other major stock markets. Higher oil prices and concerns about AI's impact on traditional business models weighed on sentiment. European equities (ex UK) also recorded weak performance amid ongoing geopolitical risks. Elsewhere, Japan equities posted a healthy gain, driven by expectations of political stability and pro growth policies, despite some pullback in March from Middle East tensions. Overall, emerging market equities were broadly flat in local currency terms but generated a modest gain in sterling terms. Within the region, Korea and Taiwan gained on robust AI related demand, while China and India lagged as higher oil prices weighed on their energy dependent economies.
- Fixed income markets sold off over the quarter, as government bonds came under pressure on increased uncertainty around the future path of interest rates given concerns that surging energy prices will reignite inflation. UK index linked gilts were the exception, posting positive returns. US Treasuries also proved relatively resilient, delivering broadly flat returns and outperforming most other major bond markets. By contrast, UK government bonds delivered the weakest returns among major government bond markets as expectations for Bank of England rate cuts were scaled back, following its more hawkish tone. Euro area government bonds were also weaker after the ECB kept policy rates unchanged, while Japan government bonds sold off amid expectations of higher government spending and the Bank of Japan signalling rising inflation pressures. Elsewhere, non-government bond sectors lagged.

- Two contrasting forces shaped the global economy and financial markets during the second quarter: the energy shock caused by the Iran war and optimism surrounding artificial intelligence (AI). Global shares significantly outperformed bonds, with US and emerging market shares leading the gains. Rising investment in AI-related infrastructure and expectations of stronger company earnings supported share prices. In contrast, bond returns were weaker as investors feared the Iran war could drive up inflation, raising the prospect that interest rates would remain higher for longer.
- Global stock markets rose over the quarter as the outlook for company earnings improved. US shares made significant gains, with enthusiasm around AI supporting financial and industrial companies. While UK shares rose, they gained less than other markets because the UK market has more companies in weaker commodity-linked sectors and fewer companies in fast-growing areas such as technology. Europe (ex-UK) shares also rose as Middle East tensions eased, and manufacturing activity strengthened. Emerging market shares made the strongest gains, led by Korea and Taiwan, although Chinese shares were held back by weaker consumer spending and challenges in parts of the automotive sector. Japanese shares rose, helped by a weaker yen.
- Bond markets were mixed over the quarter. UK government bonds benefitted from lower inflation, which reduced expectations of an interest rate rise from the Bank of England in the near term. US government bonds were relatively flat as the Federal Reserve, the US central bank, indicated that rates may need to stay higher for longer despite inflationary pressures easing. In the euro area, government bonds rose as the inflation outlook improved. In contrast, Japanese government bonds fell as comments from Bank of Japan officials reinforced expectations that interest rates could rise further. Lastly, corporate bonds performed well as strong company earnings and improved investor confidence supported the market.
